

The purpose of this application is to grant your company credit so you can contract air charter services without paying in advance. Once you have completely filled out and submitted this signed form, we will investigate and assign you an initial credit limit. Your first charter with us, charters that cost more than your limit, and in certain other rare instances, you may be required to pay in advance or provide an acceptable form of payment guarantee even though you have a credit account with us. Obtaining a Client Account with us offers two major benefits for time-critical charter clients: You can book a flight anytime with a simple fax agreement, and you usually don't have to worry about wire transfers, etc. after hours. We appreciate your application and promise to keep your information confidential.
